

Chartered Accountants House

The perfect city centre location for your next corporate event

Chartered Accountants Ireland is the largest accountancy body in Ireland, with 24,000 members and students. It is the leading voice for the accountancy profession in Ireland.

The Institute has moved to a new Training Centre and Headquarters at Pearse Street, Dublin and is pleased to make these facilities available for hire to the wider business community. With its city centre location, impressive capacity and cutting-edge technology, it promises to quickly become the location of choice for all conferences, training away days and seminars in Dublin.

Our 25 separate meeting and training rooms provide an ideal space for any event, no matter what the capacity or technical requirements. Some of our smaller meeting rooms are ideal for training away days, while our lecture theatres are the perfect fit for conferences.

Capacity

One of the most remarkable aspects of Chartered Accountants House is the sheer size of numbers it can accommodate, taking 1,300 people comfortably. On our Lecture Theatre floor below reception, four tiered lecture halls can be used individually or opened out into a single convention space capable of accommodating up to 600 people. Other rooms follow a modular design that can seat 700 delegates.

Cutting-Edge Technology

Our lecture theatres are all equipped with web streaming facilities so that events and presentations can be delivered straight to desktops via the internet. A dedicated business centre offers faxing and photocopying services, newspapers, wireless connectivity and secretarial services.

Arrange A Visit

The best way to appreciate the outstanding facilities available here is to see them in person. Our Conferencing Team would be pleased to discuss your requirements with you or arrange a visit - contact us at conferencing@charteredaccountants.ie or visit www.charteredaccountantshouse.ie.
